ENVIRO DISTRIBUTION, LLC INTRODUCES TO MARKET THE AIREHAVEN 1000 MOTORIZED AIR PURIFICATION MASK

October, 2017 . . . Enviro Distribution, LLC is pleased to introduce to market the AireHaven 1000, a personal motorized air purification mask. This lightweight mask features a built-in two speed fan and three stage filter that keeps the user cool and comfortable and protects them from harmful environmental risks.

The AireHaven 1000 provides a continuous flow of fresh, filtered air and removes harmful particulates, carcinogens, dust, smoke and other dangerous pollutants in the air. It is an ideal on-the-job solution for myriad occupations, including construction, light industrial, HVAC, maintenance, painting, aeronautics, landscaping and more. Home use is also recommended when using harsh cleaning products and while tending to the lawn and garden.

"AireHaven is very proud to bring this air purification mask to market," notes Louis Benny, Co-Founder of AireHaven, Inc. "We are extremely confident that the AireHaven 1000 is a mask people will actually want to wear when they know they should be wearing one. Environmental safety masks are often uncomfortable and cumbersome, but with the AireHaven 1000, there are no long, bothersome straps that don't adjust to the face," he adds. "The cooling fan means users won't have to sweat through their work days, re-breathe their own exhaled air, or struggle with fogged up glasses. People work hard all day, but with the AireHaven 1000, their breathing no longer has to."

The AH1000 3-tier filtration system filters out pollutants and fine particulate matter (PM 2.5), common viruses, smog, everyday pollen and other allergens. USB rechargeable, it delivers eight hours of use on low speed, and five and half hours of use on high speed after just one hour of charging. Its multi-stage, high efficiency filters can be replaced, offering the user a more eco-friendly and economical mask. Weighing in at only about four ounces, the AireHaven 1000 mask is comfortable, made of medical level silicone and no metal parts. Compact yet stable, it provides a constant flow of fresh air with very low noise and vibration. The AireHaven 1000 is available in a variety of colors: black, white, gray, green, blue and pink.
